Treasurer Ma Housing Listening Tour

A statewide listening tour will be happening this month to gather ideas and feedback from the public about how best the State Treasurer's office can be part of the solution. The listening tour will begin on January 17 in five cities where CA State Treasurer Fiona Ma, CPA and her team will gather information, collect insights, and learn about regional housing issues and challenges. We encourage you to attend and please invite other interested parties. These events are open to the public and no cost to attend, however we ask that you RSVP so we can make the necessary accommodations:
